

W E R E M E M B E R

ALLISON LUSSIER

THE COALITION TO END
RELATIONSHIP ABUSE REMEMBERS
ALLISON LUSSIER
WHO LOST HER LIFE IN MINNESOTA
IN 2024

Allison Lussier, 47, was found dead by police on February 22, 2024 in her Minneapolis apartment. She died of a subdural hematoma, but the Medical Examiner's office stated her death was not the result of homicide. Allison was Indigenous, and her family has questioned the Examiner's finding. Her family has been vocal about dismissive treatment from the police and have stated that Allison's former partner should be investigated for her death. Allison's former partner had a long, documented history of domestic violence against her, and police took as many as seven reports from her starting as far back as August 2022 detailing the domestic abuse. Allison called police to her apartment on February 17, but no arrest was made. Her family continues to fight for adequate investigation into her death. Allison was described as "kind, generous, caring, loving and well respected from her community."

